

Lifecycle Construction Services Named to Inc. 500 List of America's Fastest Growing Private Companies

Three-Year Growth of 2,193% Lands Lifecycle Construction Services as the 153rd Fastest-Growing Private Company in America

Inc. Magazine has named Lifecycle Construction Services as the 153rd fastest-growing private company in America. Since its founding in 2007, Lifecycle's consistent track record of providing superior owner outcomes to federal, state, municipal and private clients has enabled the company to secure over $900 Million in long term contract capacity providing design-build, energy performance contracting and facility management services.

"An award like this would not be possible without the trust our customers have placed with the Lifecycle team and the hard work and dedication displayed every day by our employees," said Lifecycle President Sean Haynes.

Lifecycle's strong three-year revenue growth ranked the company as the 7th fastest growing company in Virginia and the 11th fastest in Government Services. The company's strategic focus on client's long-term needs has positioned Lifecycle to be a leading provider of sustainable design-build, energy performance and renewable energy solutions.

About Lifecycle Construction Services, LLC. Lifecycle Construction Services is a full service Design-Build, Facilities Management and Energy Services firm specializing in providing sustainable design and construction solutions for federal, state, municipal and private clients. The company's mission is to achieve superior owner outcomes by reducing the inefficiencies typically found in the building lifecycle supply chain created when separate entities are responsible for managing the individual elements of planning, design, construction, facility operations and building assessment. Lifecycle leverages the latest technology and strategic partnerships to provide services at each stage of the building lifecycle, customized to meet our client's requirements. Our management team has extensive national and international experience performing design-build, energy performance contracting, and renewable energy projects. We have successfully managed projects cumulatively valued at over one billion dollars on more than twenty-five government installations in fifteen states and four countries. In 2011, Lifecycle was named the #1 Fastest Growing Company in the Washington, D.C. area by the Washington Business Journal in 2011 and one of the fastest growing businesses in the Washington D.C. area by Smart CEO Magazine.
